6. How to participate

Any interested party (an individual over 18 or a legal entity, domiciled in Brazil, with a valid CPF or CNPJ) may buy one or more tickets, only through a purchase link on https://iavi.com.br/ and https://crediavi.com.br/ and on the entity's social media. Each ticket costs R$ 1.00 (one real). Payment is made to an account in the entity's own name.

Each ticket has one lucky number with 6 digits, from 0 to 99,999. The first digit identifies the series and the remaining digits are the drawable element. 100,000 lucky tickets will be made available. The participant competes for the prize through a result tied to the Federal Lottery, under this regulation.

When buying, the participant must correctly provide name, telephone number with area code, and email. Those data are stored by the promoting entity. The prize is never delivered to a person other than the one in the registration. Exceptionally, the email field is not, by itself, grounds for disqualification.

Purchased numbers can be checked on https://iavi.com.br/ and https://crediavi.com.br/, in the place indicated on the home page of those sites.

Translator's note: in one sentence, the Portuguese original says the purchase window runs until 7 May 2026. Items 5 and 9 of the same official document set the participation period as 29 July 2026 to 6 July 2027. The Portuguese original prevails.

10. Total prizes

1 prize. Total value of the promotion: R$ 20,000.00.

11. How the result is calculated

100,000 drawable elements are generated, from 0 to 99,999, in one series. The lucky number has 6 digits: the first is the series and the last five are the lucky element. Example: 1/12.345 means series 1 and element 12,345.

If the Federal Lottery extraction does not take place on the scheduled date, the next Federal Lottery extraction is used.

The participating series is defined from the simple ten of the first prize of the Federal Lottery extraction. If that series number is above the highest series in the drawing, the number of series is subtracted until it falls inside the range. If it is below the lowest series, the number of series is added until it falls inside the range.

The drawable element is defined from the Federal Lottery prizes, read from top to bottom, by combining the simple units of the first through the fifth prize. The winning lucky number is the drawn series followed by the drawn element.

The first winner is the participant whose lucky number matches that winning number exactly and who meets the participation rules. A lucky number cannot win more than once in the same drawing.

If the drawn lucky number was not distributed, or the holder does not meet the rules, the winner is the next higher distributed element in the same series or, if none, the next lower one, repeating until the closest distributed element is found. The same approach is used across series if no element was distributed in the drawn series, moving to the next higher series or, if none, the next lower one.

Lucky numbers must be generated and distributed at random.

12. Disqualification

By taking part, participants declare that the information they provided is true, complete and correct, and that they will not use any device — including third-party data or incorrect or incomplete information — to evade the rules or gain an advantage. Such conduct may constitute fraud or ideological or documentary falsehood and other offenses, and participants may be held liable in administrative, civil or criminal proceedings and be disqualified.

13. How the result is announced

The result, with the lucky number and the winner's name, will be published on https://iavi.com.br/ and https://crediavi.com.br/ within 5 days after the drawing and will remain available for 30 days. It will also be published on social media and on the hotsite, including Instagram @iavi and @crediavi. The winner will be told by email and by telephone within 20 days of the draw, using the registration data. Participants are responsible for keeping their data up to date.

14. Delivery of the prize

The prize will be delivered to the winner within 30 days of the drawing, at the winner's home, at the promoter's discretion, free of liens, against a signed receipt. The winner must present the documents required for accountability to SPA/MF and for transfer of the prize: for an individual, a certified copy of the identity card, CPF and a proof of residence issued within the last 60 days (water, electricity, telephone or gas bill) in the winner's name or in the name of an ascendant, descendant or spouse; for a legal entity, certified copies of the incorporation documents, the legal representative's identity card and CPF, and proof of address.

If a winner dies before delivery, the prize is delivered to the estate, through the executor, and that right must be exercised within 180 days. If there is no probate, it may be delivered to one heir with the consent of the others, against proper documents. Otherwise the prize is collected as federal revenue. IPVA, annual licensing, compulsory insurance, plates and other fees up to transfer of the vehicle are paid by the mandating company. Personal documents needed to receive and use the prize are the winner's responsibility.

15. General provisions

Questions and complaints are first handled by the promoting company. If they remain, they are submitted to SPA/MF. Local consumer-protection bodies receive duly substantiated complaints. This philanthropic raffle will be advertised on the internet, and the materials will state where the SPA/MF authorization certificate number can be consulted. The full regulation is available at the promoter's headquarters and on the promoter's Instagram. Taking part means full acceptance of these terms.

For raffle and similar-to-raffle modalities, the company must attach the participant list in the Accountability tab, with the header cpf, cnpj, nome, numero serie, numero sorteavel, data hora participacao, email, telefone, estrangeiro, after each participation period and before the lottery extraction. The file must be .csv or .zip and each file may be up to 250 MB. If every lucky number is distributed before the campaign ends, the campaign closes and the drawing rules in this regulation still apply.

16. Statement of responsibility

The following may not be prizes under this regulation: medicines; weapons and ammunition, explosives, fireworks; alcoholic beverages, tobacco and its derivatives; and other products listed by the Minister of Finance. Alcoholic beverages, for this purpose, are potable drinks with an alcohol content above thirteen degrees Gay-Lussac.

Any consumer who meets the requirements of the authorized campaign may participate. Prizes may not be converted into cash. The result may not be determined by electronic means. Prizes are delivered within 30 days of the drawing, at no cost to the winners. If a prize is not claimed within 180 days, counted from the draw, the result or the end of the promotion period, the right lapses and the corresponding amount is paid to the National Treasury as federal revenue within 45 days.

If a minor is a winner, the prize is delivered to the legal representative, except for commercial promotions by broadcasting concessionaires or permit-holders under article 1-A, paragraph 3, of Law 5,768 of 20 December 1971. The winner's image may be published for up to one year after the drawing. Complaints are first resolved by the promoter and, if they persist, submitted to SPA/MF. Local consumer-protection bodies receive substantiated complaints.

Accountability must be filed within 30 days after the prizes prescribe, failing which the prize-distribution plan is breached. The regulation must be posted where it is clearly visible, in a size and type that participants can read. The promotion must also follow Law 5,768 of 1971, Decree 70,951 of 1972, SEAE Ordinance 7,638 of 2022, MF Ordinance 67 of 2017, SECAP Ordinance 20,749 of 2000, and complementary acts.

Breach of this statement of responsibility or of the regulation is a breach of the operation plan and may lead to the penalties in article 13 of Law 5,768 of 1971.

Accountability

Accountability must be filed by the date in the promotion header in SCPC, under SEAE Ordinance 7,638 of 18 October 2022. Missing that date puts the promoting companies in default. Failure to file by the due date leads to a fine of 100% of the sum of the promised prizes and a ban on free prize distributions for advertising for 2 years from the accountability deadline, under article 13 of Law 5,768 of 1971. The fine may be reviewed on an administrative appeal under article 56 of Law 9,784 of 29 January 1999.
